TheTalk@TheStudio, by Helvetia and Ringier

Marc Faber: “The worst mistake you can make is thinking you know something.”

Swiss economist Marc Faber will be appearing as a guest this evening at TheTalk@TheStudio, held by Helvetia and Ringier. The show will be airing at least five times this year, where top-flight speakers are invited to The Studio café at the Ringier Pressehaus building. The talks will be broadcast live on the website Blick.ch.

Marc Faber is far more than a mere crash prophet. As a prominent commodities expert, he has served on numerous boards directors of mining companies, is a popular speaker at international investor conferences and is a regular commentator on several major TV networks. In live appearances and in his newsletter entitled the Gloom Boom Doom Report he provides knowledgeable commentary, penetrating analysis and thought-provoking forecasts on the economy and financial markets.

In an interview with Christine Maier, Mr Faber will be talking about his connection with Asia, his current views on the financial markets and why he usually stays in the same hotel in Zurich as back when he was a university student.

The talk will be streamed live starting at 7:15 pm here, and on our social media channels:
